PROGRAM NOTES AND TEXTS

Colorless Green Ideas Sleep Furiously by Christopher Delp

The text (by Noam Chomsky) is simply:
Colorless green ideas sleep furiously.

Musings by Katherine Fay

These songs are based on a few poems by Elizabeth Barrett Browning which I found really interesting. I titled this work Musings because of the reflective nature present in all the texts. This seemed to me to be the most important unifying element of the work as a whole.

Perplexed Music (Affectionately inscribed to E. J.)
Experience, like a pale musician, holds
A dulcimer of patience in his hand,
Whence harmonies we cannot understand,
Of God's will in his worlds, the strain unfolds
In sad, perplexed minors: deathly colds
Fall on us while we hear, and countermand
Our sanguine heart back from the fancy-land,
With nightingales in visionary worlds.
We murmur, 'Where is any certain tune
Or measured music in such notes as these?'
But angels, leaning from the golden seat,
Are not so minded: their fine ear hath won
The issue of completed cadences,
And, smiling down the stars, they whisper – SWEET.

Visions (Sonnet from the Portuguese No. 26)
I lived with visions for my company,
Instead of men and women, years ago,
And found them gentle mates, nor thought to know
A sweeter music than they played to me.
But soon their trailing purple was not free
Of this world's dust, their lutes did silent grow,
And I myself grew faint and blind below
Their vanishing eyes. Then THOU did'st come – to be,
Beloved, what they seemed. Their shining fronts,
Their songs, their splendors (better yet the same,
As river water hallowed into fountains)
Met in thee and from out thee overcame
My soul with satisfaction of all wants,
Because God's gifts put man's best dreams to shame.

An Apprehension

If all the gentlest-hearted friends I know
Concentred in one heart their gentleness,
That still grew gentler till its pulse was less
For life than pity, I should yet be slow
To bring my own heart nakedly below
The palm of such a friend, that he should press
Motive, condition, means, appliances,
My false ideal joy and fickle woe,
Out full to light and knowledge: I should fear
Some plait between two brows, some rougher chime
In the free voice. O angels, let your flood
Of bitter scorn dash on me! Do ye hear
What I say who bear calmly all the time
This everlasting face to face with God?

If Thou Must Love Me (Sonnets from the Portuguese No. 14)

If thou must love me, let it be for naught
Except for love's sake only. Do not say,
'I love her for her smile – her look – her way
Of speaking gently – for a trick of thought
That falls in well with mine, and certes brought
A sense of pleasant ease on such a day' –
For these things in themselves, Beloved, may
Be changed, or change for thee – and love so wrought,
May be unwrought so. Neither love me for
Thine own dear pity's wiping my cheeks dry –
A creature might forget to weep, who bore
Thy comfort long, and lose thy love thereby!
But love me for love's sake, that evermore
Thou may'st love on, through love's eternity.

Velvet Sea by Katy Dubina

This work is a variation movement based on the Phish song "Wading in the Velvet Sea." By developing and overlapping the musical themes present, the piece breaks away from the song structure. The reassignment and interchange of melodic material to different instruments maintains an oceanic feeling throughout the piece.

Thought by Greg Meyer

Thought is a piece containing two distinct ideas. The first idea is rather muddled and busy, while the second is clear, concise, and brief. The two are presented in varying textures and lengths, each influencing the progression of the other.

Constellation by Brian Green

con·stel·la·tion

Date: 14th century; Function: noun

Etymology: from Latin com- + stella star — more at STAR

1 : the configuration of stars especially at one's birth

2 : any of 88 arbitrary configurations of stars or an area of the celestial sphere covering one of these configurations

3 : an assemblage, collection, or gathering of usually related persons, qualities, or things

4 : PATTERN, ARRANGEMENT

The celesta, unfolding the main theme, is interrupted by lyrical fragments which introduce the voices of the orchestra. The diatonic harmonies of the piece are based on the first intervals of the theme. These pitches are analogous to the stars in their unique arrangements. They are introduced via the circle of fifths and sustained against one another. A recapitulation of the main theme leads to a coda in the celestial key of E major.

125 (Terminal Velocity) by Ian "Ein" Frey

It feels like falling...faster until you can't gain speed...like emotion and love...then you hit the ground. Almost every aspect of this song represents chaotic falling, in some way.

Breathless...

The way I refuse to swallow air

Lonely in my head

But I...really don't care.

I'm falling falling falling, falling.

Those below me stop and stare.

I watch the ground rise up,

Like I'm floating still.

Thinking of you, thinking of you.

I don't want you to feel sorry

It's just my imagination,

A short-lived infatuation.

A dream of saturation,

Of you...of air.

Those on the street shuffle by.

I wonder if they wonder why?

I'm falling falling falling, falling.

One twenty five.

I breathe you in

I breathe you in

I breathe you in

Breathless...

The way I am now.

Empty is my head,

But I...see somehow.

Merging with the ground!

Those above me stop to stare down

Confusion

Confusion

Movement for Orchestra by Christopher Delp

Movement for Orchestra is like a daydream... an unfinished thought.
